

Directions for Viewing “An American Story: Race Amity and The Other Tradition”

On the chart below, find your state and the PBS station serving your location. PBS station call letters are listed as Regular Channel and World Channel Schedules. It is noted if the program is airing on either the Regular or World Channel of the station or both. A blank space indicates that the station has not scheduled an air date or time for the program. If this is the case, please check the website (raceamityfilm.org) on Sundays for an updated broadcast schedule.

If your PBS station is airing the program on the World Channel and you don't know the channel on your cable system, call your local cable provider for the channel number. Unfortunately, DISH, Direct TV nor AT&T carry World Channel programs; however, these satellite companies do carry the regular PBS schedules. We invite you to check the website often for scheduled updates for An American Story: Race Amity and The Other Tradition.
